CONTACT

Nicholas is a seasoned frontend developer who is highly knowledgeable in HTML5, JavaScript, Angular, React and databases (NOSQL/SQL). A true team player with years of experience in the I.T industry. He is seeking an opportunity to work in a core software collaborative environment where he can be a better programmer and also have his efforts compensated for as well. He is a Front-end developer who is aware of what a frontend consumer needs and puts a lot of UI/UX into considerations during the development phases. Nicholas also has daily routines he adheres to and is always intellectually curious to learn more and make the most of his earthly experience.
